

Josef Dabernig Panorama

The productive significance of the void might have different reasons; for me, it is essentially a lack of content. It is like the precise construction of nothing: very clear in form, very open in meaning. (Josef Dabernig)

